PROTECTING YOU AND YOUR REPUTATION

Demonstrating quality governance to your stakeholders

Stakeholders, policy-makers and society at large are increasingly demanding and expecting greater transparency and improved corporate governance.

One aspect of this drive for better corporate citizenship has been the ongoing international effort to reduce the likelihood of corruption in a business context.

Mazars provides a suite of bribery and corruption risk management services designed to protect your organisation from the financial, operational and reputational damage of corruption.

Protecting you from the financial, operational and reputational damage of corruption

Our services include unique programmes that address legal and regulatory requirements wherever you may operate, including the management of exposure to the UK Bribery Act and the US Foreign and Corrupt Practices Act.

A robust anti-bribery programme can protect your company under the law. Moreover, such a programme provides additional benefits:

- A more sustainable business model
- A better understanding of operational realities
- Improved enterprise direction and control
- A more cohesive corporate culture

Specialists in the field of bribery and corruption risk management
